Swap Meet Regulations Stems From CoC Action

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — There may soon be controls on swap meets in the county area — and the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce is the instigator of the action.

The Chamber called on Sheriff's deputies to guide it when a South Bay swap meet operator asked the Chamber to endorse his swap meet operations slated for Lemon Grove drive-in.

Sheriff's Sgt. Hank Schilpp told the chamber that the largest one in the East County area is at an El Cajon Drive-in, but it is under city controls.

County operations are under no controls at present — only proper zoning (C-1 or C-2) is required. There are 5 to 6 in the North County. Schilpp said he will ask that the operators be required to keep records of transactions for police inspection

The officers agreed that the meets are a convenient place to dispose of stolen merchandise.

They have a reverse effect also in that if someone tells a policeman that he got that television trunk in his rear seat at a swap meet, there is no way to check on the statement.

He said that meets go considerably beyond private parties meeting to exchange items. He said that, as an example, one man had a shoe display that took up many square yards in a National City meet.

He said that a few years ago one man did a thriving business in bicycles that he would buy from young thieves. The bicycles he bought in this county, the sergeant said, he sold in Los Angeles and he sold the bicycles that he bought in Los Angeles in National City.

The youngsters got 75 cents a bicycle and when the man was finally caught he could be prosecuted for only petty theft, the sergeant said.

Sheriff Joseph O'Connor says that he will ask the Board of Supervisors for controls on the operations of swap meets in unincorporated territory.

Planning Commission Says 77-Foot Signs Would Compound Mistake

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The County Planning Commission decided Friday that it did not want to "compound a mistake" in Lemon Grove and refused to grant a variance to Shell Oil Company to increase the height of a service station sign from 35 feet to 77 feet.

The location is at the northwest corner of Massachusetts and Waite Dr. but the station is primarily for service to Freeway 94 traffic.

The mistake, according to the commission, was allowing a 77 foot sign for the Richfield Oil at the southeast corner of the same intersection. The comm sion denied that sign too but it was allowed by the Board of Supervisors on appeal.

Don Anderson of Shell argued that the higher sign was necessary so that motorists could see it in time to take the off ramp to get to the station. He used the other sign as justification for the request.

Planning official Clayne Munk said that the vicinity is mostly residential. He said that the staff does not believe in the practice of putting service stations at some distance from freeway interchanges and then trying to attract business with higher and higher signs.

In another Lemon Grove action, R. B. Christman was granted a special use permit for a nursery for not to exceed 12 mentally retarded children at 9245 McKnight Drive.

Higher Budget Eyed For '67 By L.G. Fire Dept.

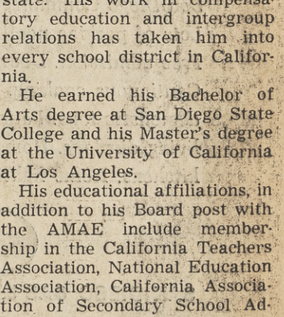

A "considerably" higher budget is forseen for the coming year for the Lemon Grove Fire Department by Fire Chief H. "Pappy" Hensley.

The preliminary budget, which was presented to the Board of Directors at the last meeting was for $191,480, "and that doesn't include increases in wages and salaries," he said.

Last year's budget was $186,872. The preliminary buudget includes the general increase in the cost of operation, Hensley said.

Budget and salary studies will continue at upcoming meetings — the next one being May 23.

Budget hearings must be completed by June 13 according to law.

Alcohol Consumption Brings Arrest

Alvis G. Spargo, of 6818 Central Ave., Lemon Grove, was arrested by sheriff's deputies early Saturday on charges of alcohol consumption during cafe restricted hours.

Spargo is owner of George's Hideaway, a bar at 435 Sweetwater Rd., Spring Valley.

Sheriff's deputies charged that several people were in the cafe at 3:04 a.m. Saturday although the place was otherwise closed. Some had still-cold beer in front of them and a card game was in progress.

Fun Turns Sour

Fun at a Casa de Oro party was dampened early Sunday when two of the participants became embroiled with the police.

Larry Mays, 18, of 3545 Granada, Casa de Oro, wandered from the party into the nearby garage of Ann Byers of 3611 So. Cordoba, James Lee Weitzel, of 3346 So. Bonita, also a participant in the party, came searching for Mays and both were grabbed by a neighbor of Mrs. Byers.

They were released to the sheriff.

'Good Samaritan Law' Pays Off

(Editor's Note — Last year, State Controller Alan Cranston wrote and sponsored legislation to permit the State to pay the costs of damages or injuries suffered by a citizen who assists in the prevention of a crime or the capture of a criminal. Cranston's "Good Samaritan Bill," introduced by Senator George Miller Jr., was approved by the Legislature in June and signed into law by Governor Brown on July 15. In the following article, Cranston explains the background and significance of California's new "Good Samaritan Law.")

By Alan Cranston

The State Board of Control on May 3 registered an historic "first" when it approved a payment to a San Diego file clerk, Clifford G. Miller Jr.

The case itself was not particularly dramatic — in October, Miller fractured his right hand when he captured a prowler in the yard of a neighbor's home and held him for police.

The amount of money involved is modest — $269.60 to pay for the portion of his medical bills not covered by insurance.

But th Board of Control action is significant in that it is the first claim approved under California's new and unique "Good Samaritan Law."

That law, the first of its kind anywhere in the United States, has received more attention nationally than within California.

Time Magazine called it "a pioneering bill — a timely response to the growing big-city fear of 'getting involved' . . ."

The Wall Street Journal, the New York Times and Newsweek Magazine all favorably noted California's "legislative first."

And since California adopted this new law last summer, others have followed our leadership. In December, New York City approved a similar program. Other states, including New York and Delaware, have asked my office for additional information to help them prepare "Good Samaritan" legislation.

Personal concern over reports of cases in which groups of people turned their backs on fellow-citizens being victimized by criminals prompted me to propose a Good Samaritan law.

The most famous case occurred in New York City in the summer of 1964, when 38 men and women idly watched or turned away while a young woman, Catherine Genovese, was stabbed to death in the street. Those observers, who didn't even bother to phone the police, said later that they were "afraid of getting involved."

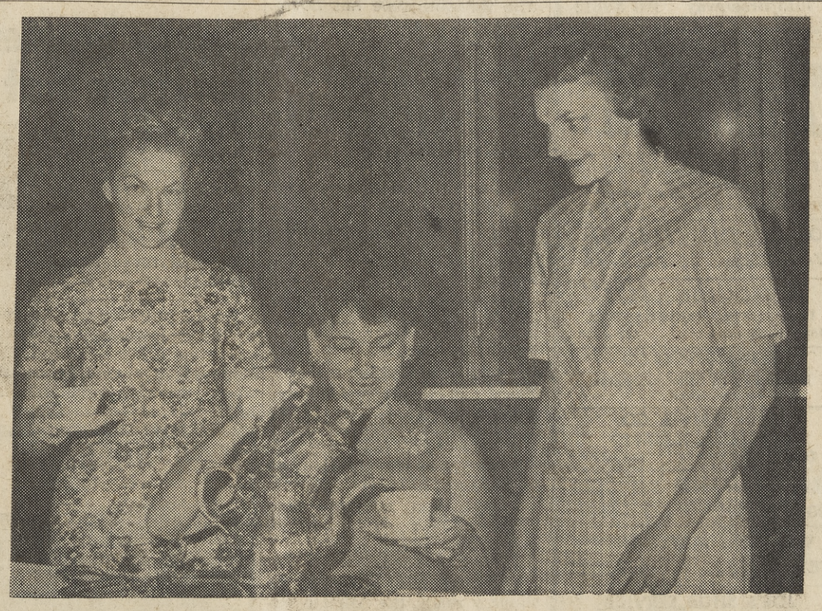

On the other side was the case of Chicago cab driver Lawrence Boyd. He tried to stop three muggers from robbing two young men. In the process of being a good samaritan, he was shot twice, one arm became paralyzed, he lost his job — and went $9,000 into debt because there was no law to authorize the State to compensate him for the costs of his injuries.

Sadly, there have been many, many similar cases throughout the Nation and in California.

Obviously, the State can not legislate an attitude of compassion into the minds of its citizens.

Some nations have tried, through tough laws which seek to punish the "bad samaritan." In the Soviet Union, France, Italy and Germany, the law says that a citizen must help someone in distress; if he does not, he is liable to fines or imprisonment or both. The Soviet Union's law provides six months of imprisonment for the "bad samaritan"; German law specifies fines ranging up to $2,500.

After long research, I concluded that the answer should be in the middleground between the extremes of punishing the "bad samaritan" or of rewarding the "good samaritan."

GOP Candidates Are Guests For Confab, Dinner

by Pat Steiger

Candidates seeking the Republican nomination for the office of State Assembly, State Senate, State Attorney General, and U. S. Congress, were guests last week at the annual membership dinner meeting of the Lemon Grove Republican Assembly.

Included at the dinner were Clair Burgener and Hale Ashcraft, both running for the new 38th District Senatorial seat; Paul Sutherland and Eleanor Anderson, both seeking the 77th District Assembly seat being vacated by Richard Donovan; Sam Vener, candidate for the 37th Congressional District, and Jud Leetham, candidate for State Attorney General.

The dinner, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Steiger on Crane St., Lemon Grove, attracted about 70 people.

Spaghetti ala Balaban (Mr. and Mrs. Emil Balaban served as chefs) was served.

Ashcraft and Burgener assailed abuses in the State Welfare system and agreed that "welfare should be for the needy and not the greedy." California is attracting people who are not productive as a result, the pair warned. "When this total exceeds those who are producers, society will collapse," Ashcraft said.

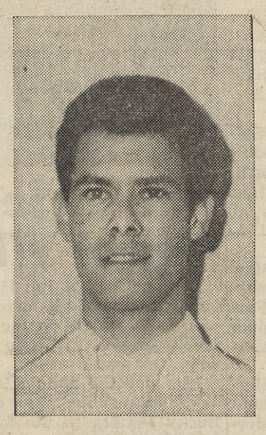

Paul Sutherland stressed the need for strong anti-pornographic laws and for men in the Assembly who will correct Governor Brown's "tremendous mistakes."

Mrs. Anderson, who is a councilman in Chula Vista, said she will fight to preserve local control and individual rights, if elected.

San Vener assailed the administration's curtailment of the bracero program and noted that the incumbent made no effort to help the farmer who suffered terrible financial losses as a result of the Administration's policies — policies caused the sharp rise in the price of food.

Admiral Leslie Gehres (USN ret.) chairman of the Republicann County Central Committee, recalled for members the function and the importance of the Central Committee.

Ela, Ungricht Set New League Marks

Mount Miguel's Pat Ela and Danny Ungricht of Monte Vista shared the honors for area athletes last Friday in the Grossmont League track finalls at Grossmont College.

Ela won two events, the pole vault and long jump, including a record breaking performance in the later. Ungricht set a new loop standard in winning the 80-yard run.

Total varsity qualifiers reached four for Miguel and four for Monte Vista, for the San Diego Section CIF prelims to be held Saturday at Balboa Stadium.

Ela took the vault at 13-6 with teammate Stewart third. However, because of the bying of Helix's Rich Olander to the CIF meet due to injury, only the first two places qualified in the pole vault.
also qualifying for the meet.

The long jump mark of 23-3 posted by Ela was good enough for a first place and a new league mark.

Ungricht sped two laps around the track in 1:56.5 to tick one-tenth of a second off the former record. Running third in that race was Terry Torgerson of Miguel.

Third

Other qualifiers were Rod Stephens, third in the mile for Monte Vista; Don Olsen, second in the two-mile for Monte Vista; Basil Machado of Miguel, second in the 180-yard low hurdles; and Rick Geer of Monte Vista, second in the shot put at 53-4, a new Monarch record. Geer also qualified for the discus in Thursday's discus finals.

Bee qualifiers numbered five for Mount Miguel and none for Monte Vista. Tony Leone of Miguel won the 100 in :10-1 for a new league mark. Schmeltzer took the 70 highs for Miguel to tie the loop record of :09 flat.

In the Cees Jones of Monte Vista was third in the high jump and the Matador 400 relay team also qualified.

Scoring placed Miguel and Monte Vista both at 29 points in varsity competition, good for a fourth-place tie. Bee scores had Miguel fourth with 10 and Monte Vista in a tie for fifth with nine points.

Job's Story To Be Told

The story of Job will form the basis for a Bible Lesson on "Soul and Body" at Christian Science church services this Sunday.

Explanatory passages from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will emphasize the theme that man's real existence is spiritual — in God — and that to accept this gives men dominion over the material body.

Included will be these lines: "Man is tributary to God, Spirit, and to nothing else — Having one God, one Mind, unfolds the power that heals the sick, and fulfills these sayings of Scripture,' I am the Lord that healeth thee,' and 'I have found a ransom.' "

It will be at the County Fairgrounds here June 24 to July 4. Although formal classifications cover most common plants from orchids to dahlias, there is always the "any other variety" possibility for entries.

At least 7,000 entries from 5,000 people are anticipated for this year's flower show, one of the nation's largest. It will be produced under five acres of cool green plastic mesh off the Avenue of Flags near the main entrance.

Deadline for entries in the several hundred categories is June 1. Entry forms are available by writing or calling the fairgrounds office.

Rise Continues In Employment

Vigorous employment growth and a further sharp reduction in unemployment characterized the California labor force picture this April, according to a report issued by the state departments of Industrial Relations and Employment.

Civilian employment totaled 7,015,000, and April record and the first time this year that the job total has passed the seven million mark, Ernest B. Webb, director of industrial relations, announced.

The number of employed exceeded the strike-and-rain-affected April, 1965, level by 333,000, or 5.0 percent, the largest twelve months' growth span since mid 1959. Between March and April, employment advanced by 76,000, a greater-than-usual upswing for this time of year.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Men in all ages have faced problems which seemed to be insurmountable, yet when they attacked them with a bold heart, having faith in God, they have conquered. So it is in our day.

One of our most precious rights—freedom of the press—is being destroyed by those very ravening wolves who insincerely howl for its continued existance. I speak of those designing men who publish pornographic material. By failing to practice decency and good taste they have violated the sacred trust inherent in freedom of the press.

As a Stake President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day-Saints, I call upon all God-fearing men and women to protect this freedom by insisting (through our legislators) that the law be adjusted to fit the crime. Let us protect our homes from a more deadly menaue than poison gas or a rabid beast. Of course, we must not allow our representatives to legislate away the right of a free press, but under the guise of obeying a law protecting house cats, we have released gluttonous tigers in our streets and in your homes.

I call upon the decent citizenry of this community to protect your children, God's little ones, from this evil and dangerous threat, and, as parents, to protect your own minds and souls as well. Nothing so foul has been perpetrated upon America in all her history.

We want our neighbors to know that the "Mormon" church whole heartedly and sincerely supports any action or movement to curb the dissemination of pornography and will sustain any action to keep this fine community free of filth.
